Institution & Department	Year Taken	Course Title	Total # Classroom Hours	Course Grade	Two of the Major Topics Covered

Please explain anything in your record as you present it above that will help us understand your readiness for doctoral study here. For example, there may be weaknesses in your academic background that you will need to address once you enroll here; the record shown above may not be indicative of your preparation in these subjects, or it may not be obvious why you plan to build upon all of the last four courses you list. Use a separate sheet if necessary.

Short Answers

1. What are your career plans after your doctoral degree completion?

2. Have you ever been enrolled in a Ph.D. program? Yes No

If yes, please use another sheet to explain why you wish to change programs or pursue another Ph.D.

3. To which other programs and institutions are you applying?

Letters of Reference

Please list the full name, address, position, field and institution of your referees. Please limit the total number of references to three.

Statement of Purpose

REQUIRED: Write a brief essay on the following subjects concerning you and your intended field of study: (1) your past work on relevant issues, (2) what excites you most about the field, (3) possible areas of research you might pursue, (4) any research projects you have completed with a faculty member, and (5) any other information you would like to provide to the admissions committee. (If you are applying to Organizational Behavior, you should describe any research projects you have completed with a faculty member — especially projects with the faculty members who are writing your letters of reference.)

While admission to the Ph.D. Program is based primarily upon superior academic achievement and potential to contribute to management research and education, the Admissions Committee also regards the diversity of an entering class as important to the School's educational mission.

If you would like the committee to consider how factors such as your background, life and work experiences, advanced studies, extracurricular or community activities, culture, race, ethnicity, socioeconomic status, or sexual orientation would contribute to the diversity of the entering class, and hence to the GSB PhD experience, please describe these factors and their relevance in a separate statement.

Certification

Your signature below represents your commitment to the spirit of the Fundamental Standard and Honor Code and signifies that all of the information that you have provided in this application is your own work and, to the best of your knowledge, complete and accurate.

If you are offered admission, Stanford reserves the right to withdraw that offer if: 1) you show a significant drop in academic performance or fail to graduate; 2) there has been a misrepresentation in the application process or a violation of any of the terms of the application process; or 3) we learn that you have engaged in behavior prior to matriculation that indicates a serious lack of judgment or integrity. Stanford further reserves the right to require you to provide additional information and/or authorization for the release of information about any such matter.
